LOCALS.

MRS. CRAIG BAUGH has our thanks for a basket of her tomatoes which are almost as large as pumpkins.

AGENT J. S. RICE will sell you a round-trip ticket to Atlantic City Thursday, 17th, good returning in 12 days, for $17.90.

Big races for good purses each day at the Liberty fair, Aug. 16, 17, and 18. Also balloon ascension. Make your arrangements to go.

THE L. & N. will run an excursion to Louisville Sunday morning, Aug. 20, at $1.75 for the round-trip. Train will leave Stanford at 6 A. M. and two coaches will be reserved for white people.

THANKS.—Mr. John H. Engleman, the boss watermelon raiser, has our thanks for several of his delightful cantaloupes, the thought of which would almost make a wooden man's mouth water.

MR. JAMES M. BALLINGER, who was a native of this county, died suddenly at his home in Paris, Texas, a few days ago. He and his brother, John L. Ballinger, were here on a visit to relatives just after the last Confederate Reunion.

BANANA TREE.—A German named Poppenhazen, living near Ottenheim, has a large banana tree, from which he expects to get some luscious fruit. Mr. Poppenhazen is an expert lemon grower and usually has enough of his own raising to do his family.

THERE will be a box supper at the old Baptist church, under Masonic Hall, Preachersville, Saturday night, next, given by Derrick Warner Lodge, 561, F. & A. M. Everybody invited.

J. W. Cummins, J. M. Cress, A. J. Thompson, J. S. Pettus, J. B. Hutchins, Committee.

If you don't believe that Middlesboro is awakening from her sweet slumber read the following dispatch sent from there: Both No. 1 and No. 2 furnaces are now in operation for the first time in 10 years. The Virginia Iron, Coal and Coke Company has built 20 new houses; the United States Leather Company has built 15 new houses; more than 60 dwellings and business houses have been built by private parties in the last 12 months, and an era of prosperity is on in Middlesboro that is leading on to fortune.

REID.—James Reid, aged 23, died at Danville Friday night of typhoid fever and was buried in Bellevue Cemetery at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. He was the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Forestus Reid, formerly of this place, and was a fine young man. He had many friends and relatives in this county whose hearts are saddened by his untimely taking away. Mr. Reid was a partner in the Kentucky Supply Co.'s business in Danville and had proven himself a successful business man. It is indeed sad that one so full of promise should be called hence so early in life. Few young men had more to live for and none was more idolized by his parents, who have the unbounded sympathy of this entire community.

WANTED.—Two No. 1 house carpenters at once. J. A. Allen, Stanford, Ky.

READ in another column the advertisement of the Gordon School for Boys.

CARPENTERS! See our new diamond edge hand saws, guaranteed at George H. Farris'.

ALL members of the Stanford Dance Club are requested to meet Wednesday night. G. L. Penny, president.

In the county court yesterday a few settlements were made and the will of Doc Anderson was probated. He left his property to his wife. Mr. Anderson died a year or so ago.

BADLY HURT.—Scott Hamilton, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Hamilton, fell from his horse while trying to open a gate and the animal stepped on him breaking his jawbone. The little sufferer was doing as well as could be expected at last accounts.

GOOD CROWD.—Mine Host Frank M. Sims, of Olympian Springs, was here Saturday and told us that he still has a good crowd and that hundreds of people are drinking his health-giving waters, many of them having it shipped to them. He is well prepared to ship water to any point.

THE Scudder-Gale-Wearen Company is to be the name of a new wholesale grocery concern in this city with a capital paid up stock of $100,000, says the Cairo, Ill., Bulletin. The Wearens in it are Messrs. George B. and D. H. Wearen, formerly of Stanford, and sons of Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Wearen.

DALTON.—Walter Dalton, the 12-year-old son of James H. Dalton, of the Gilberts Creek section, died of abscess of the liver and was buried Friday after funeral services at Goshen church by Eld. J. G. Livingston. He was a bright, dutiful boy and his parents are almost broken-hearted over his untimely death.

MR. J. A. ALLEN, the contractor and builder, contracted yesterday with Mr. C. R. Coleman, to put him up a handsome two-story residence on East Main Street, adjoining the property now occupied by Mr. Coleman. The house will contain nine rooms and modern in every particular. We are glad that Mr. Coleman and family have decided to remain in Stanford.

WHILE waiting for his train at the depot Sunday night, Mr. Thompson Browning, of College Hill, Madison county, claims that George Craig, a Stanford Negro, who has been in court many times, attempted to pick his pocket and did get 60c. Policeman W. H. Mershon arrested Craig and started to jail with him, but the Negro slipped away from him and skipped out.

WHEN the commonwealth had introduced its last witness at the examining trial of James Carter, Dick Chandler Elmore Siler and Misses Ethel Delaney and Lena Staton, charged with the murder of Cecil Crutchfield, the lawyers for the defense made a motion that the accused be discharged and spoke at length on the proposition. They were answered by the prosecution and when the question was finally submitted to Judge Bailey he ordered the prisoners to jail, at the same time rescinding his order permitting them guards. The trial will be continued this morning, Judge Bailey declining to hold court yesterday, on account of his duties in the county court. Some damaging testimony was introduced Saturday, several witnesses swearing that the flash of the pistol indicated that James Carter fired the shot and that he picked up the weapon, which fell to the floor just after the report was heard. Otto Ensslin, a German boy, was the most damaging witness, while John Oaks, who was playing the bango for the dancers, gave some testimony that must have been displeasing to the defense. As the defense has not yet shown its hand it is impossible to even guess at the outcome of the trial, which has created more interest here than any in years. Mr. J. S. Owsley, Jr., is assisting County Attorney Helm in the prosecution, while Judge M. C. Saufley, Messrs Robert Harding, R. C. Warren, P. M. McRoberts and W. S. Burch represent the accused. The court-house is packed at each session of the trial and many others would hear the testimony if they could gain entrance.

THE trade of Somerset will extend a cordial welcome to Mr. Robert Robinson, late of Levenson Bros., who is as pleasant a gentleman as ever engaged in business in Somerset, says the Somerset Journal. He has one of the prettiest store rooms, the old Ogden & Son stand, in town and is filling it with a carefully selected stock of Clothing, Shoes and Furnishings. Give him an early friendly call.

THE following from the Kentucky State Journal at Frankfort shows that the soil around Hustonville is especially adapted to the raising of base ball experts: Jim Frye, from the little town of Hustonville, in Lincoln county, which is noted as the breeding place of good ball players, demonstrated Wednesday that he is beyond doubt without a peer in Central Kentucky as a twirler. He pitched the game of his life yesterday afternoon against the very fast Versailles team and beat them by 4 to 3 after 12 of the hardest fought innings ever seen on a local diamond. The game was a pitchers' battle from the word "go," and from the fall of the flag until Frye passed under the wire, winning easy under a double wrap. He had all the best of it. Of the 12 men who faced him during the last four innings of the game, 10 of them beat the wind in futile endeavor to connect with his puzzlers. Frye seemed to get better as the game advanced, and in the most critical stages when a single bingle meant the winning run for Versailles, he retired the opposing batsmen in straight order. He was by far the coolest man on the field in the 10th inning, when with two men on bases, he struck out the next three Versailles batsmen and retired the side amidst the wildest cheering from the enthusiastic spectators.
